

PDF-frame is a web framework for client side PDF generation. With its declarative HTML syntax and semantics, it offers a easy way to define PDF graphical content efficiently. It provides component support for popular frameworks like Vue, nuxt and React(work in progress). Built on the i2djs framework, PDF-frame presently supports rendering outputs in PDF and Canvas formats.

